Foreword . . .

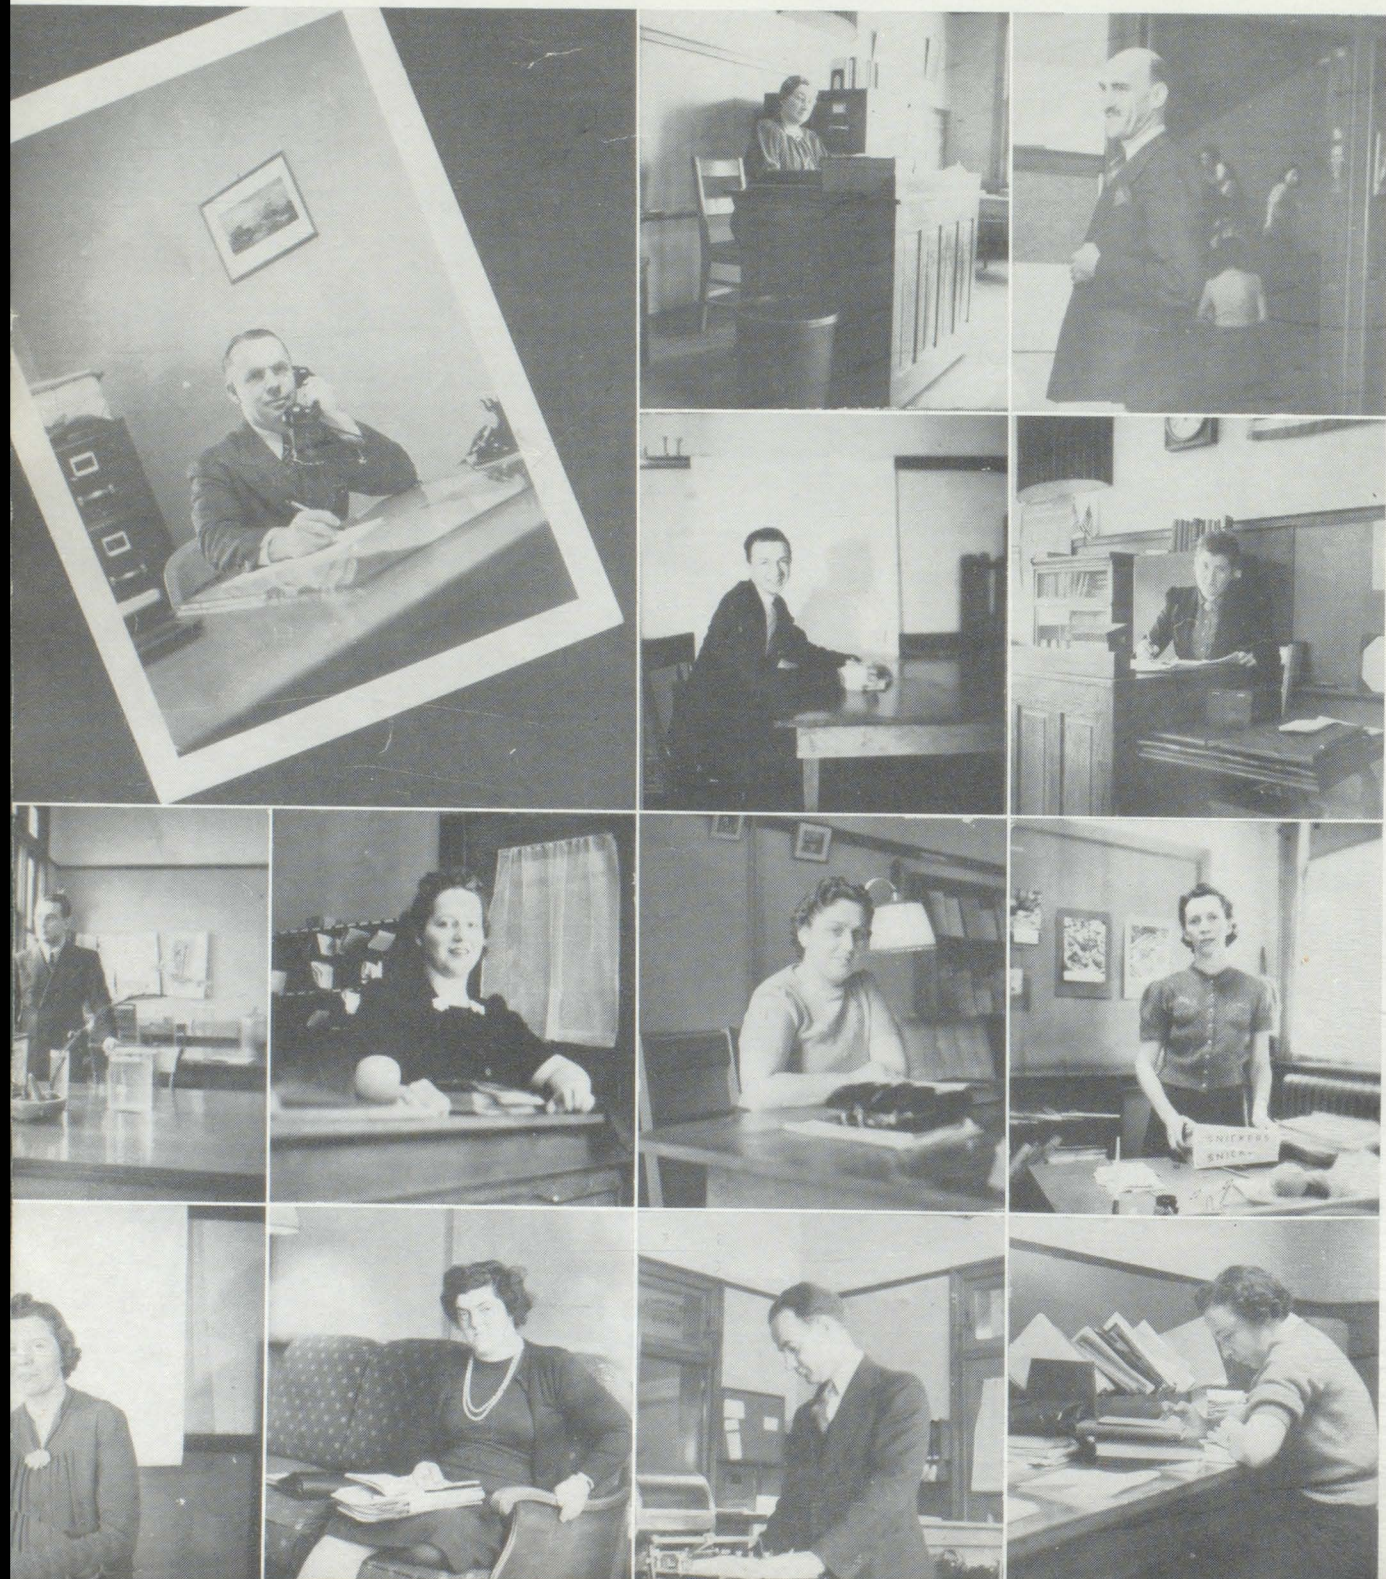

For all of us another year of our lives is past, and we are packing our suitcases to travel on to new experiences. Some of us are traveling to new levels in high school, others on to college, and still others to begin their life careers. None of us will be so engrossed in future work that we cannot turn to thoughts of the past. The Staff through THE STUDENT wishes to present to all of you pleasant memories of this one happy high school year.

Last September P. H. H. S. welcomed a new principal, Mr. M. J. Tomlinson. He succeeded Mr. W. R. Cleminson who resigned to accept a similar position in Grosse Pointe High School. We find ten new names on our faculty list. They are Mrs. Alexander, Miss Dicer, Miss Muhlitner, Miss Weil, Mr. Ailio, Mr. Kopp, Mr. Miller, Mr. Moll, Mr. Reynolds, and Mr. Ronan. These new teachers have fitted into the routine, quickly adapting themselves to the business and pleasures of school life.

Faculty

According to an old saying, school is principally for those proverbial "R's" of learning, but glancing across the list of teachers in

Port Huron High we seem to find something on the contrary.

For example we have French and Latin from Mr. Schoonen, Miss Olsen, and Miss Eichhorn.

No longer do girls have to stay at home to learn their household arts with such teachers as Miss L. Moore, Miss Blackburn, and Mrs. Alexander. Boys have the opportunity to study mechanics and the like from Mr. Bauman, Mr. Montgomery, Mr. Miller, Mr. Winger, Mr. Cook, and Mr. Reynolds.

Guiding us through the pitfalls of Literature and Grammar, are Miss Scher, Miss Ballentine, Miss Reid, Miss Kean, Miss Weil,

Miss MacLaren, Miss B. Woodward, and Miss J. Woodward. The students are aided in learning the history of their country by Miss Caton, Miss Anderson, Miss Dicer, Miss Fitzpatrick, and Miss Warren.

Preparing the students for entry into the business world are Mr. Dentel, Miss Drescher, Miss Folkerts, Mr. Kopp, Miss Millett, Mr.

Sommer, and Miss Turner.

Helping solve the mystery of life through the channels of Biology, Chemistry, and Physics, are Mr. Ohmer, Mr. Abernethy, Mr. Adams, Mr. Phillips, Miss Rowe, and Miss Stevenson.

Studies in social problems are carried on in Civics, Economics, and Sociology, which are taught by Miss Muhlitner, Mr. Ronan, and Mr. Dentel. The fine art of Dramatics and Public Speaking is taught by Mr. Moll.

Keeping our students physically fit are Mr. Cook, football coach, Miss Kuhlenkamp, Mr. Steinborn, and "Brick" Fowler.

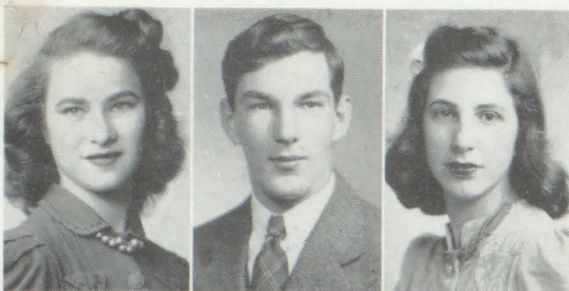

The difficult study of mathematics is made easier by Mr. Johnston, Mr. Ailio, Miss Meehan, Miss F. Moore, and Miss Stevenson.

Study Hall advisors are Miss Wiese, Miss Neil, Miss Seibert, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Hyde, and Mr. Straffon.

Our musical department is aided by Mr. Straffon, head of the band; and Miss Hyde, vocal instructor.

Keeper of the books, the librarian, is Miss Everts.

Our competent secretaries are Miss Schmude and Miss Holstein.

In Memoriam

ROBERT A. REID

"It matters not how long we live, but how." Bailey—is the slogan used by the January graduating class of Port Huron High School for their class president, Robert A. Reid, whose death ended a brilliant scholastic career in Port Huron High School. Bob was a member of the National Honor Society, the Student Council, the Service, Chess, and Aeronautic Clubs as well as being president of his class. He was given the Boys' Citizenship Award at the time of the class graduation. He will long be remembered by those who knew him as a perfect example of high school youth.

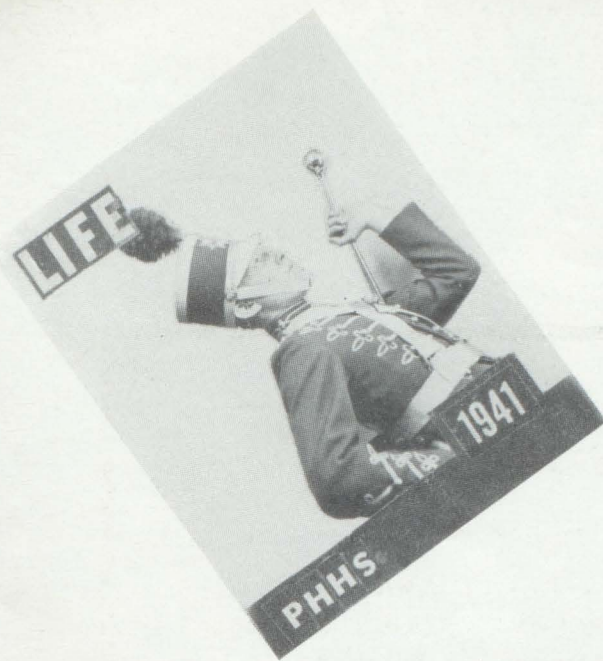

In Memoriam

KATHLEEN MOORE

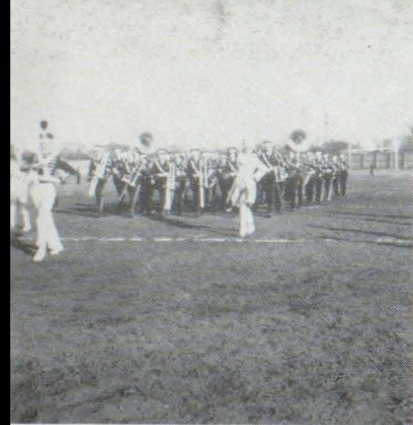

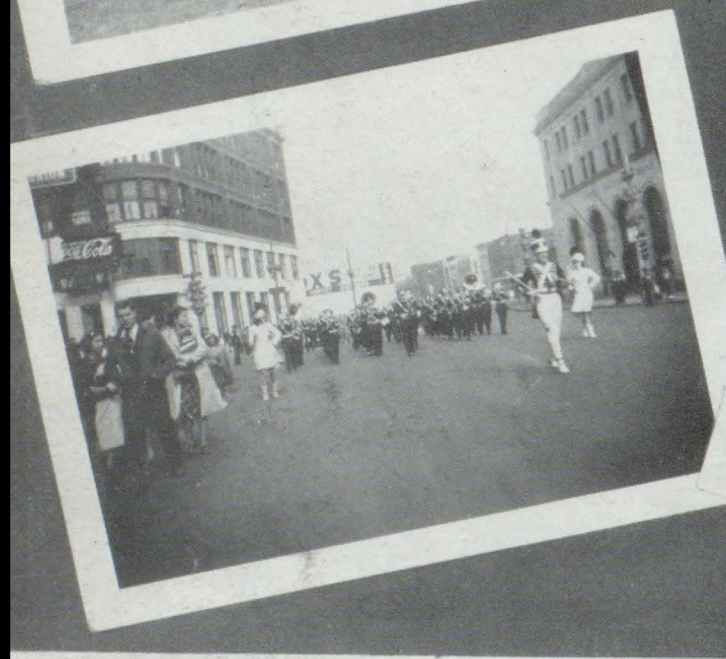

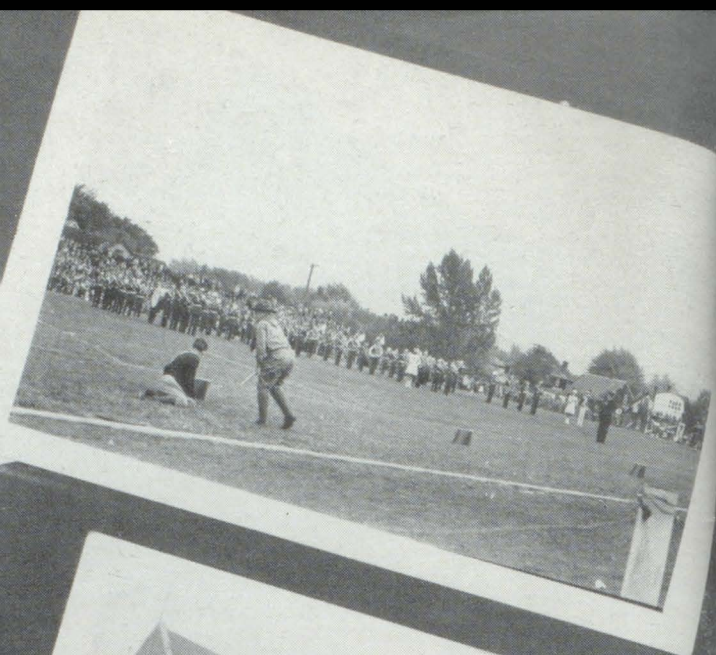

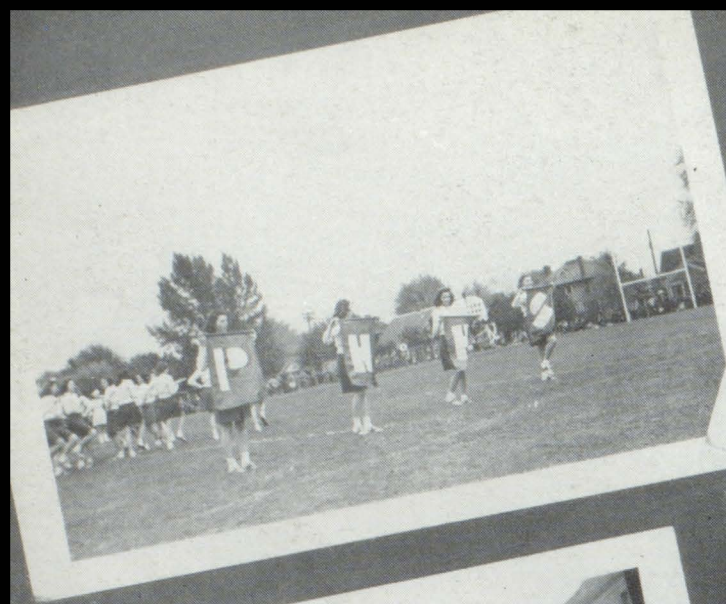

Port Huron High School suffered a great loss with the passing of Miss Kathleen Moore. Associated with the school for nearly a quarter of a century, she made many friends. While teaching social sciences was her vocation, she also advised the Student Council and took a keen interest in all school activities. She is missed by all who knew her.

MELVIN J. ("Tubby") MYERS

The untimely death of Melvin J. ("Tubby") Myers saddened hundreds of school children in Port Huron. Mr. Myers was a member of the teaching profession here since 1909 and one of the oldest teachers in the local school system. When he came to Port Huron, he was the only manual training teacher in the city and was also the city's only public school athletic coach. He served as high school athletic coach from 1909 to 1921, and athletic director (1921-1940) for Port Huron schools and at the time of his death was purchasing agent for the Board of Education. "Tubby," as he was known to his fellow teachers and friends was admired for his energy, ability, and fine personality.

The routine of school can become pretty monotonous, but not at P. H. H. S. With two big events like the SPOTLIGHT and the SENIOR PLAY topping the list of activities, school life doesn't get a chance to become dull. With the opening of school comes the football season, which holds excitement for everyone even if the team should happen to have a jinx on it. Adding a note of gaiety to the games are the flashy uniforms of our band, the pride and joy of P. H. H. S. On a more serious side, the Christmas concerts of Miss Hyde's superb choir give pleasure to the students and all of Port Huron, in their singing of favorite Christmas hymns. With competition at its keenest, the campaign days before class elections speed up the quickening tempo of school life. With the capable Student Council members in charge, voting is carried on with swiftness and ease. After the results have been printed in a LIGHTHOUSE extra, students settle down for a few peaceful days before exams, after which everything starts over again, with all the vim, vigor, and vitality contained in 1,500 students.

Our band is the pride and joy of P. H. H. S. Their flashy uniforms never fail to add a gay note to the football games and to community parades. Led by the strutting Drum Major, Parren Lehman and two majorettes, Shirley Eveningred and Elaine Tucker, the band executes many drills.

Mt. Clemens, our friendly rivals, may have their two attractive majorettes and their handsome major, but they have yet to find anything as novel as our twenty baton-twirling majorettes.

The high school choir, under the capable direction of Miss Bess L. Hyde and president Robert McPherson, has completed another successful season. Throughout the year it assists in many local programs, accompanied very efficiently by Miss Doris Schroeder. Numerous concerts, including the annual Christmas program, were presented. The Girls' Ensemble meets for special training and sings for local organizations.

November 29 and 30—The nights that the talent of P. H. H. S. come into the spotlight. This year the "Spotlight" was centered around a patriotic theme.

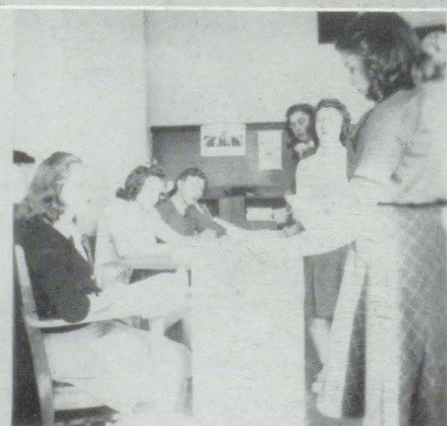

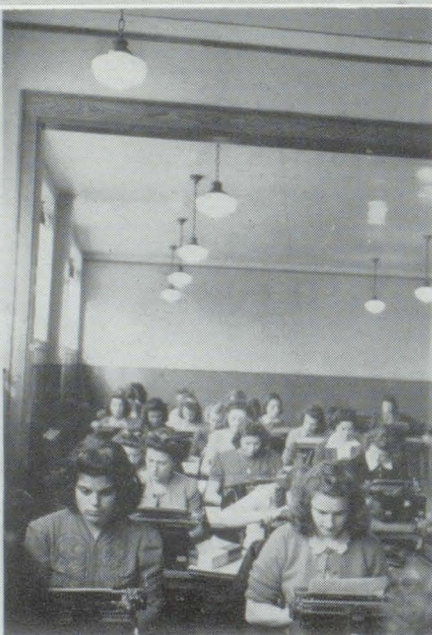

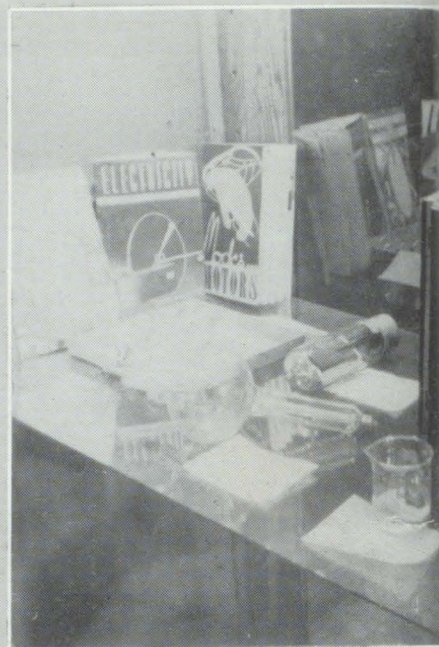

Miss Reid, Miss Caton, Miss J. Woodward, and Mr. Phillips were the faculty members in charge. Carroll Millard, Howard Young, and Parren Lehman, masters of ceremonies, working alternately—moved the acts along smoothly and quickly. There were many numbers including singing, dancing, music, skits, and monologues. Some of the acts were the Boys' Choir style show, Nash Tinnerman's Band, and jitterbugs Marguerite Scott and Bill Battle.

The January class gave us our money's worth. Didn't it make chills run up your back as Lady Macbeth (Donna French) glided in and out at the most unexpected times? Everyone hissed the villainous Dr. Bunn (Floyd Emlaw) and the unscrupulous Artemus Burke (Tom Endean). Davis Bonner won the complete sympathy of the audience as Don Cutler, a harried playwright who only sought seclusion and ran into a mad house. Our hearts ached for lovely Lucille Marcy, played by Wanda Grice, as her cruel guardian tried to make people believe she was insane. Orchids to the other members of the cast who worked so hard to make this play a success.

Before stepping out into the maze of manly males parked on the front lawn last minute primping is carried on by the girls at their lockers. Mary Shepardson and Audrey Slosser demonstrate this art. Our noses are permanently wrinkled with the smells from the Chemistry Laboratory. Long may it live—outside or housed in the Display Case.

The most popular means of transporting our students seems to be the good old standby—the bicycle. Many are the coy glances which travel from the boys' side of the front steps to the girls'. Note the studious appearance of the masculine group. The girls don't seem to believe it—or maybe they're interested in something else. How about it Ila (Curtis), Helen (Barry), and Nina (Rice)?

Voting seems to be the important job right now. Class rings must be voted on by each group of eleventh graders. Note the serious expressions of the women voters. The Student Council supervises the elections for class offices and this year the Civics and Economics classes held a straw vote election for the Presidential candidates. Home Economics and Mechanical Drawing offer valuable experience for students.

Football

Charles Cook, former assistant football coach, succeeded "Brick" Fowler when "Brick" filled the position left vacant by the death of "Tubby" Myers. He was assisted by Jack O'Hara and Malcolm Walker. We wish for him many successful seasons with the Red-White teams.

RECALLING MEMORIES OF THE 1940 FOOTBALL SEASON

September 20—Amid the cheers of hundreds of loyal supporters, the newly clad Red-Whites smashed their way to a 34 to 0 victory over St. Clair.

September 29—P. H. took a smarting defeat at the hands of the Sarnia Collegiates. The Red-White team was off on their blocking, tackling and everything that concerned football in general. The result was a 19 to 0 victory for Sarnia. October 4—It looked as though Port Huron was going to add another victory, but a fumble by one of the Red-Whites backfield cost them the game. The final score was 6 to 0 in favor of Ferndale. October 11—P. H. took the worst beating in the history of all Mt. Clemens versus Port Huron games. The experienced Mt. Clemens seniors outweighed and out-played the Red-Whites. Final score was 40 to 0 in favor of the Bathers. October 18—Jackson defeated P. H. by a score of 32 to 2. Our team showed lots of zip, but they could not go through the strong Jackson line. P. H.'s blocking and tackling was off and the invaders took advantage of the lax work. October 28—Hazel Park smothered P. H. in a 30 to 0 victory. November 2—The Pontiac Chiefs scalped P. H. on a 34 to 0 victory pow-wow. The Red-Whites threatened to score several times, but lacked the punch and drive. November 9—The team was buried under the barrage of touchdowns and when the final whistle blew, the score was a 67 to 0 victory for Grosse Pointe. This was the final game of the regular season. November 14—Off the Records—Flash!!!!. It's great to be a winner! The Senior vs. Undergraduates game turned out to be a win for the Under-grads. This helped to put heart into the prospects for next year.

We believe it should be the privilege of every senior to help publish his own annual and to receive it at graduation time. An attempt was made this year to have two separate year books. Unfortunately we were unable to produce two books, but hope in forthcoming years that this may be accomplished. We have, however, divided this edition of THE STUDENT into two distinct parts, representative of the two graduating classes.

Who's Who

We really do have some famous people in this school, chilluns! Elaine Lohrstorfer won the first prize of $25 in a contest sponsored by the banks. The title of the essay to be written was "Why I Would Choose Banking As a Career." Elaine was also chosen by the Daughters of the American Revolution as the outstanding senior girl citizen of Port Huron.

In the field of music comes Marjorie Benedict, a junior, who, for her outstanding abilities as a pianist, won the award of a Port Huron Musicale scholarship. Sherman Hoskins won the Clarence Phare Memorial Award for 1940-1941.

In the Free Throw contest, little golden statuettes were won by Jack Goss, Sherman Hoskins, Ralph Ingerson, Don Schatzline, and Frank Toth.

And we mustn't forget the Lighthouse Staff! Several of the members attended the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association conference in Ann Arbor the week-end of May 1. The members who were chosen as delegates because they showed the most promise, have been most dependable, and have done the best work were Chuck Bannan, Peggy Dobbins, Bob McVety, and Beth Tilley.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars again sponsored their annual essay contest. This year's theme was "One Nation Indivisible" and Erie Square Academy is the Alma Mater of several winners. Second prize was won by Jeannette McClung, a sophomore. Third, fourth, fifth, and sixth were taken respectively by Marijane Williams, Bill Meyer, Ivy May Whittaker, and Elaine Lohrstorfer, all venerable seniors.

In the field of poetry three of our girls won prizes in the annual poetry contest for high school girls which is sponsored by the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs. Jean Garrett, a senior, won fourth prize for her "Inventory";

Jeannette McClung, a sophomore, won fifth prize for her "Moonbeams";

Katherine Bell, a senior, won a special award for her "What Is That?"

Congratulations to all these famous people and to the rest of us ornery students who aren't famous but who perhaps inspire these future Presidents and college professors.

"MOONBEAMS"

I own my own small moonbeam
And who could ask for more?
For each night it spills the moonlight
In a puddle on my floor.

Each night I lie awake to watch
My pool of silver white,
My present from the chill, cold moon,
The mistress of the night.

—JEANETTE MCCLUNG.

INVENTORY

One lonesome broken ear-ring,
A compact not all there,
A month-old letter from my beau,
A ribbon for my hair,
A pencil that is broken,
A card of bobby pins,
Gum wrappers and a candy bar,
Unfastened safety pins,
A powder puff, a nail file,
Address book, and a comb,
Nail polish, and some snapshots,
A leaky pen, a stone,
Newspaper clippings, Kleenex,
Perfume, a scrap of lace,
A dance program, a lipstick,
And some lotion for my face,
A souvenir of autumn,
A threaded needle there,
This is my inventory when I hunt for my bus-fare.

—JEAN GARRETT.

WHAT IS THAT?

Is it a bowl of spicy fruits?
Is it a flow'r with all its roots?
Is it a bow with an arrow to suit?

What is that?

Is it a nest of a sprightly bird?
Is it so loud that it can be heard?
Is it a thing that utters no word?

What is that?

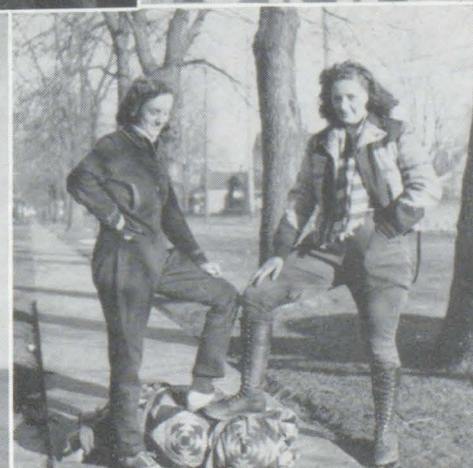

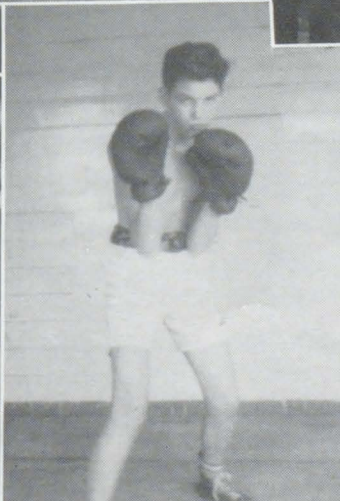

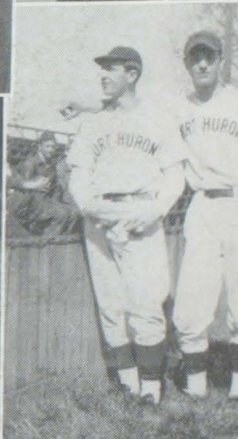

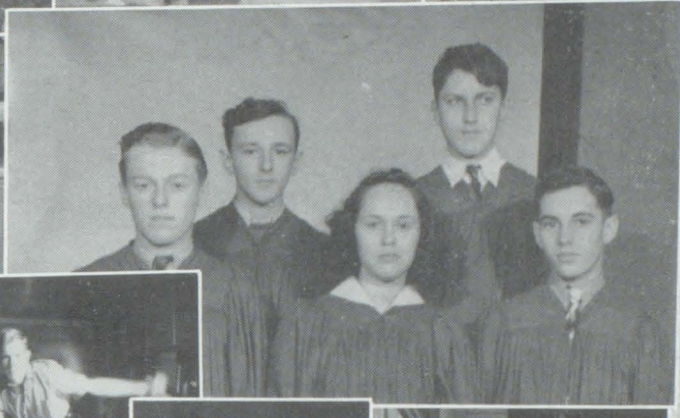

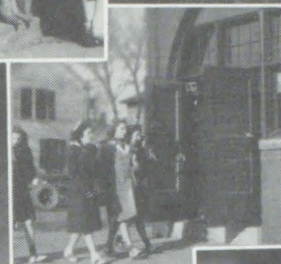

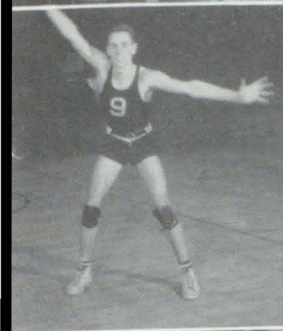

Is it a puzzle of display
Grand and glorious in its array
But so bewildering that

All I can say
"It's a hat."

—KATHERINE BELL.

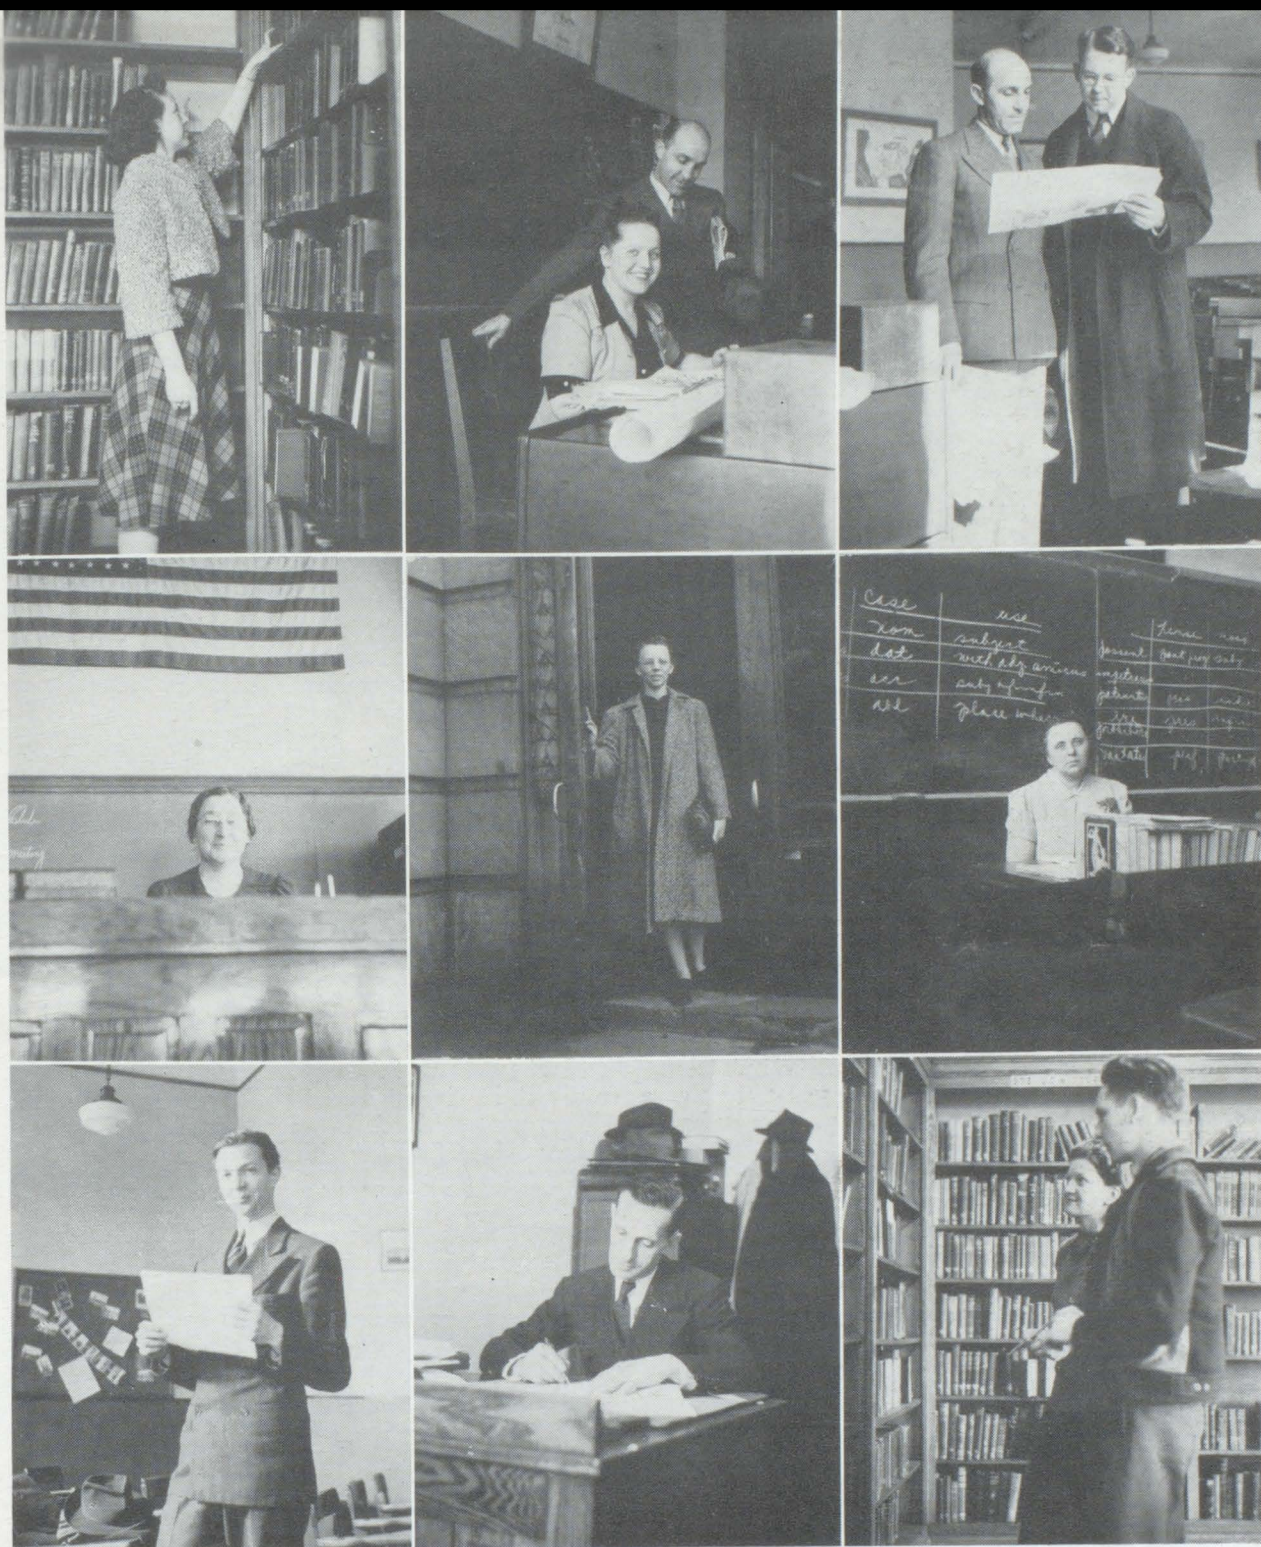

Under the competent direction of James Moll, the June Class presented the play, "Pride and Prejudice", April 25th and 26th. A former Broadway hit and movie, it is a comedy based on the novel by Jane Austen. The action of the story occurs during the year 1820, when the one and only possible career for a woman was matrimony. The story concerns the ambitions of Mrs. Bennett to get all her daughters married—particularly to men with handsome incomes. Jane and Lydia do not offer much trouble but Elizabeth has modern ideas concerning marriage and openly refuses to marry Mr. Collins whom she detests. Mr. Darcy, whom she secretly loves, finally wins her. Delightful entertainment was aroused by Elizabeth's pride and Mr. Darcy's prejudice.

Miss Reid is sponsor for the June Class. Mr. Ohmer ponders over a chemistry experiment. Miss B. Woodward, Miss Kean, and Miss MacLaren discuss 12A English. Mr. Phillips is the handsome biology teacher. "What makes the wheels go 'round?'" Ask Mr. Adams. Besides conducting civics and economics classes Miss Muhlitner is the adviser for the Student Council. Miss Evert assists us in finding our library books. It is in Miss Meehan's mathematics classes that budding Einsteins labor over perplexing problems. Many of THE STUDENT snaps including the "self-portrait" were taken by Mr. Abernethy.

Miss Caton seems to be doing a bit of reference work. Miss Anderson and Mr. Steinborn talking over news from the boys' gym classes. Later—"Steinie" and

Mr. Johnson relax with the "funnies." One of the advisers for the Student Council last semester, Miss Seibert, is pleased about something. Miss Stevenson leaves school after a busy day. She plans our good assemblies. Miss Eichhorn teaches Latin. Many fine plays this year have been directed by Mr. Moll. Preparing the students for the business world is the job of Mr. Sommer. Miss Dicer is helping select a book for extra reading.

SHERMAN HOSKINS WINS THE CLARENCE PHARE TROPHY

The Clarence Phare Memorial is given to the boy who plays the game to the best of his ability and with a fine display of good sportsmanship. According to "Brick's" estimation, Sherm comes closest to this standard. Although he wasn't a first string man, Sherm never became discouraged and gave all he had for his team. He is a boy who is willing to co-operate and accepts all decisions without arguing, whether they are for or against him.

PORT HURON'S BASKETBALL SEASON

December 6—P. H. opened its basketball season with a smashing 33 to 17 victory over Grand Rapids Union. December 13—The champion Flint-Northern team defeated Port Huron 27 to 16. The experienced Northerners took advantage of the open shots and with their playing ability, they won the game. December 20—The Red-Whites defeated East Detroit by a 35 to 16 win. The Detroiters had a bad defensive squad and our team took advantage. January 3—In a thrilling game, the team uncovered a 20 to 16 win over Hazel Park. P. H. sunk the winning points in the last minutes of the game. January 10—P. H. trounced Ferndale in a 40 to 17 victory. Fine co-operation and playing ability exceeded that of the Ferndale five. January 14—P. H. smashed the defensive and the offensive side of their rivals from Mt. Clemens for a 42 to 30 victory. January 25—Grosse Pointe defeated P. H. in a 38 to 20 win. This was the first game of the season on a foreign court. January 31—The experienced Toledo Waite five swarmed over the P. H. team in a 30 to 14 win. The team had a tough time keeping up with the fast shooting Ohioians. February 6—P. H. defeated Ford Trade in a 27 to 21 game. The fast passing and shooting Red-Whites scored their points in the last quarter of this rough and tumble game. February 11—In a hair raising game, the students of P. H. witnessed Mt. Clemens defeat by a score of 31 to 28. February 14—P. H. again won against Hazel Park by the score of 40 to 39. February 21—Ferndale was again victim to the powerful Red-White team. The final score was 28 to 25. February 22—Toledo Libby dropped a close game to the P. H. five. The 21 to 20 win was made in the last few seconds of this thrilling game. March 1—Ford Trade was again defeated by the Red-Whites. The score was 32 to 24. This was the final game. March 17—In the first Regional tournaments P. H. lost to Hazel Park by a score of 25 to 22. This team had been beaten twice by the Red-Whites before this game had been played. The Parkers out-shot the P. H. five, therefore expelling them from playing any more games in this tournament.

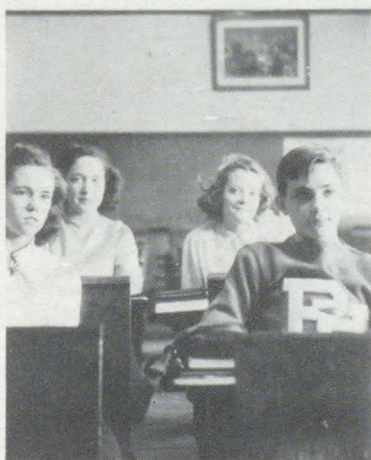

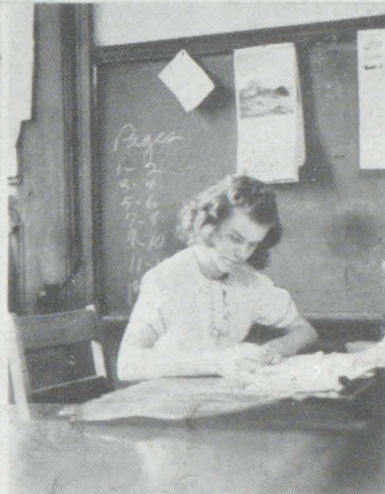

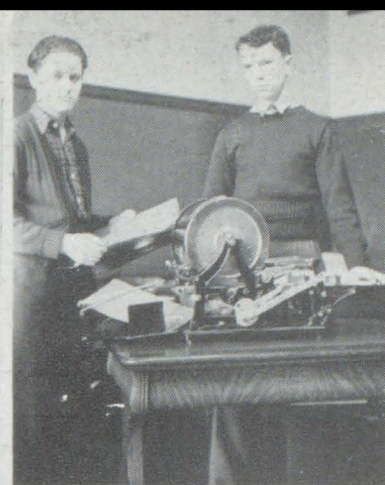

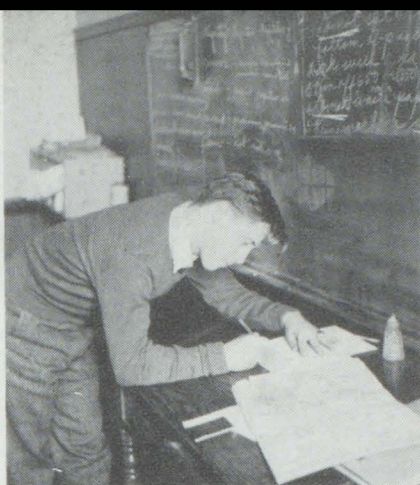

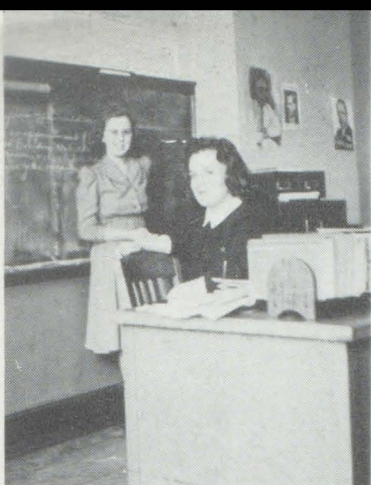

A large group of boys are being taught the art of self-defense in the form of boxing. Golden Gloves contenders are trained by Harry Robertson. On Thursdays the group displays their ability in the noon boxing show. Some of the leading boxers are Cameron, Hoskins, Duco, Ledgeworth, Morris, French, Trend, Wallace, Spears, Lucas, and Wolley. Glen Leonard and Elmer Lincoln help to referee. These boxers put on a show to earn money to buy football shoes for the team.

Two of the most popular departments in Port Huron High School are Shop and Home Economics. Billie Collinson is a demonstration of a successful home-maker (can't you just smell that roast?) and Cecil Toles shows how he will "bring home the bacon." With practical training like this, the "younger generation" demonstrates how future family life will be happy and successful.

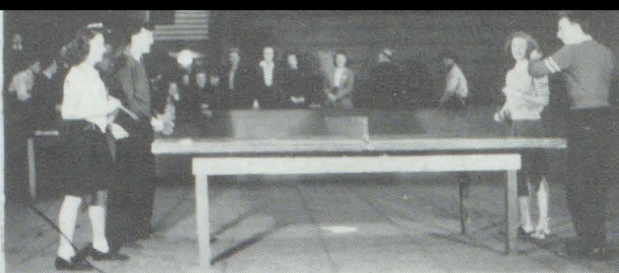

The gym is the setting for many enjoyable times—assemblies, basketball games, gym classes, and concerts. This year we have been very fortunate in having good assemblies. Among the best were the Plantation Singers and Salom Rizk. Between the second and third periods at the basketball games the majorettes drill and twirl in fine style.

Pat Emerson, president of the Student Council, presides at a weekly meeting. At the blackboard Vivian Fox writes out proposals to be considered. Barbara Grund, Shirley Henderson, and Virginia Fawcett are listening intently to a discussion concerning the "clean up" campaign. What do you suppose Beth Tilley and John Beaucamp hear that is so interesting? Another group of students who work to benefit the school is the LIGHTHOUSE staff. Dick Aylesworth is busily working on the advertising while Bob MacVety and Bill Kenny are mimeographing. Editor Alys Bathey checks copy that reporters Marijane Williams, Jeanette McClung, and Joyce Harris have submitted. The business staff is discussing the financial side of the paper.

Boys Champ

Wallace
Irwin

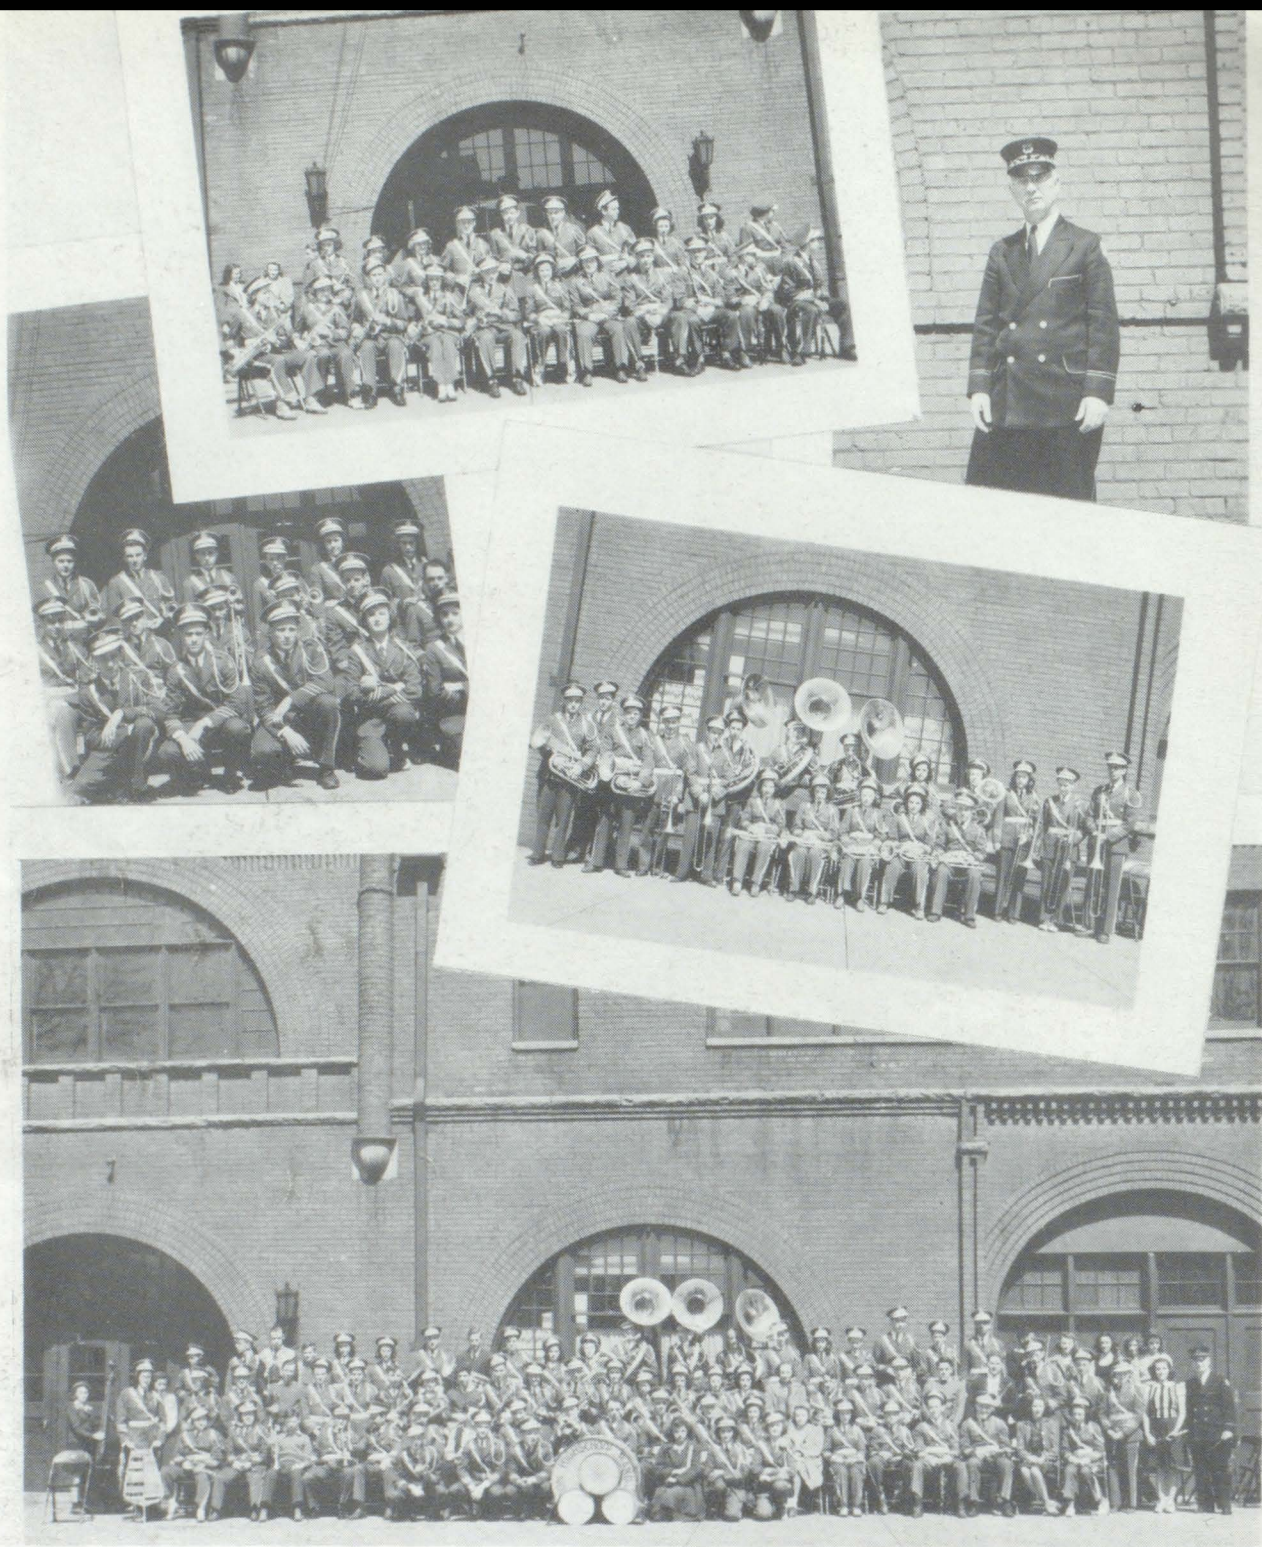

Girls Champ

Connie
Comb

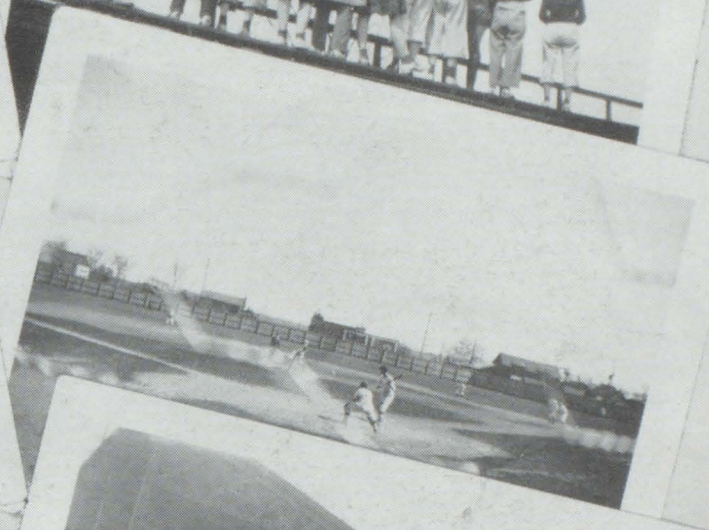

Ping Pong remains a favorite indoor sport with P. H. H. S. students the year around. "Brick" Fowler arranged a little competition and sponsored a tournament. There were girls' and boys' singles and mixed doubles. Many a flashy form was discovered. Connie Comb emerged victorious over the other girls, while Wallace Irwin took the laurels for boys. Keep your eyes on the ball! Follow through on your swing! The golf team is working to perfect form and drive. Chuck Telfer and Vance Kleinstiver demonstrate the proper stance and form.

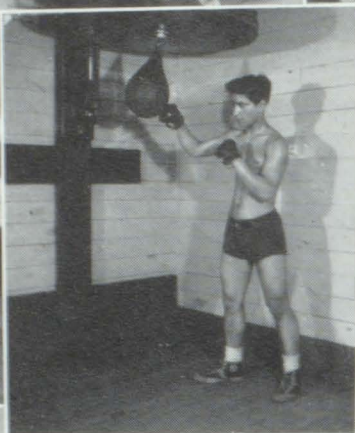

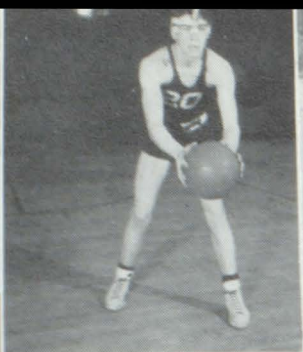

Choir members are boarding the busses for their annual trip to Ypsilanti and the last Bach festival under the direction of Mr. Alexander. An enthusiastic music lover is Miss Fraser, head of the public school music department. Other guests of the choir were Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson, and Mrs. Abrams. The drivers of the four busses compare notes and check details before starting. Jack Reynolds takes a last minute look—wonder who she is? Miss Hyde and her choir have spent many long hours practicing for this Big Event of the year. Their annual Christmas card sale was the chief means of financing the trip.

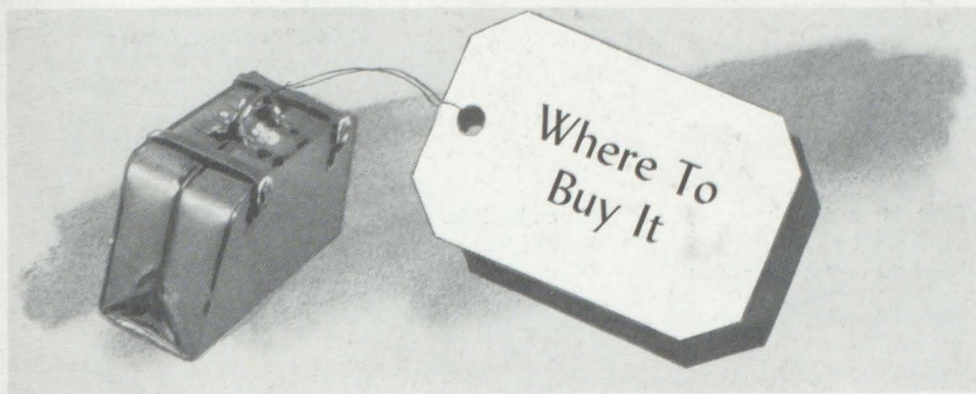

A group of 106 students compose the P. H. H. S. band; 63 of them fully uniformed. They meet every fourth hour as a class to practice. At every assembly they provide musical entertainment. During this semester, they have sponsored the Thumb District Band Clinic, Heany, the Magician, the District Festival, and a concert. The band represents the school in community parades.

Yes, at first glance it does look like a line of boys, but it's just some of the feminine baseball fans, who are watching the flit of a foul ball. And did you ever see such fine specimens of feet? Dot Jones and Billie Collison seem to be enjoying the game. Plenty of action and lots of thrills are to be found on the baseball diamond, when our local boys display their form. Games this year included Ford Trade, East Detroit, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Flint Central, and Harbor Beach. Ten letter winners were back this year—May, Hobden, Dobratz, Thomas, Anderson, Toth, Hebner, Schatzline, Truscott, and Mehler.

Port Huron, one of the oldest cities of Michigan, an outgrowth of Fort Gratiot, has grown to become one of the big cities of Michigan.

Strategically located at the south of Lake Huron and on the beautiful St. Clair River, it has become one of the beauty spots of the State. Industrially speaking, Port Huron has grown. We now have one of the largest brass and metal plants, and two leading paper plants. We are located in one of the leading salt belts, and will have at the close of this year one of the largest power plants in this section of the State. The County of St. Clair of which Port Huron is the county seat, is very wealthy in agriculture. The wealth in the county from farm produce is equal to the wealth of Port Huron. Our merchant business has steadily gained throughout the year.

Our downtown merchantmen have enjoyed good success even through the last years, such as our depression that began in 1930.

There have been very few failures. So therefore, to the Class of 1941 and to future graduating classes, may you look on the City of Port Huron with pride, and be glad that you live here among people of Health, Happiness, and Prosperity.
